Bring each other into the mood with this intimate massager. Create intimate moments with a relaxing, sensual all-over body massage.

Made of a soft material that may be pre-warmed before use, the intimate massager feels smooth and comfortable against your skin, encouraging you both to warm up and relax. Five vibration modes and three perfectly placed vibrating spots are ideal for getting you both in the mood during foreplay, while the discreet operation and shape means you'll hardly know it's there.

This intimate massager is specially shaped to relax and spoil both you and your partner. Designed so that your hand always caresses your partner's body, helping maintain close physical contact between the two of you at all times.

Set up and charging

2 First connect the small plug to the charger, and then put the adapter into a wall socket. The light ring on the massager starts flashing when charging is in progress.

3 When charging for the first time, allow a few minutes before the light ring starts flashing and charging begins. The massager will be ready for use after about 10 hours.

A full charge takes 24 hours. When fully charged, the massager has an operating time of up to one hour.

Let the journey begin

Soft and subtle, sensual and seductive.

We designed the intimate massager after consultation with experts in the field about what couples want from their intimate relationship.

Relaxing and comfortable to use, it will heighten your pleasure during foreplay, helping to get you both in the mood for intimacy with its gentle, teasing touch.

Relax, enjoy and let the journey begin...
