

A black Philips portable music player, model RR50, is shown from a three-quarter front view. It has a rectangular body with rounded edges and a textured black finish. A telescopic antenna is extended from the top. The front panel features two large circular speakers with a mesh grille. In the center, there is a digital display showing 'FM 107.7' and several control buttons. Below the display are two large rotary knobs and a row of smaller buttons. The Philips logo is visible on the front panel.

The Philips logo, featuring a shield with a dark upper section containing the word "PHILIPS" in white, and a light lower section containing a stylized globe with a wavy line and four stars.
