Highlights

Backlight on screen

Backlighting is a feature that illuminates the LCD screen or keypad for use in the dark. The two most common types of backlighting include LED and electroluminescent (EL). Remotes backlit with LEDs are typically bright but uneven with a yellow or green color, while EL panels are smooth with blue, white or green shades.

Battery-low indication

To know in time when the batteries need to be recharged or replaced.

Simplified quick start guide

Simplified quick start guide provides assistance in setting up a universal remote control. Instead of typing in 3- or 4-digit codes, an LCD screen is incorporated into the remote to guide you through the setup. Additionally, the quick start guide provides extra information to that displayed on the LCD screen for fast setup.

Learning functionality

Learning functionality refers to the process through which a remote control captures and stores infrared signals from other remotes for later use. When device codes are not included in the on-board database, they can always be learned from the original remote, simply by pointing to it.

5in1 remote control

The universal remote control allows you to program and operate up to 5 devices from almost any brand. A universal database of infrared codes is incorporated to enable easy installation of your TV, TV combi, VCR, DVD, DVD recorder, satellite or digital terrestrial receiver, cable decoder, amplifier, Home theater system or receiver.

Add extra functionality

Improved way of adding and labeling functions makes it easier and faster to add extra functionality. So, no more missing functions.
