IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING SOFTWARE UPDATES

Please be advised that software updates for Google and Roku model televisions are exclusively available directly through the unit, or "over-the-air" (OTA). Google and Roku release OTA updates when new software versions become available, and they are automatically pushed to your television without needing to manually download or install them. These updates ensure that you receive the latest features and security enhancements, so we encourage you to make sure the auto update feature is turned on
